

Honor Awards Listed By U-M, 6 In Escanaba

ANN ARBOR—Regents Alumni Honor Awards at the University of Michigan have been awarded to nine graduating seniors in Delta County high schools, including six in the Escanaba High School, it has been announced by Erich A. Walter, dean of students and chairman of the Committee on University scholarships.

A total of 738 honor awards winners have been announced in the entire state. Of these 488 have also been granted Regents-Alumni Scholarships.

Only those applicants who had qualified for an honor award were considered for a scholarship. The scholarship committee did not have enough funds available to award a scholarship to each honor award winner. Therefore, in selecting the scholarship recipients, the committee considered particularly the present financial need of each candidate as presented in the application form.

Four Factors Used

This is the second year that the Regents - Alumni Honor Awards have been made. They are in the form of certificates, designed to recognize outstanding high school seniors throughout the state who have been accepted for admission to the University of Michigan Honor awards have no monetary value.

Eligibility for an award is based upon the following factors: (1) the record made in high school; (2) information provided by University alumni and other citizens of the community; (3) recommendations of the high school principal and teachers; and (4) results of the special aptitude test taken by the candidate.

Regents - Alumni Scholarships have been awarded since 1945. They carry a stipend equivalent to semester fees and are renewable for the student's undergraduate program at the University, provided that the record made by the holder warrants a continuation of the privilege.

The University has notified each scholarship winner individually by mail and is not identifying the scholarship winners among the honor award recipients. Award winners were selected from 1248 applicants representing 309 high schools.

$123,965 Damage Suits Filed In Accident Case

Four damage suits totaling $123,965 were filed this morning in the county clerk's office against the estates of Oscar and Eileen R. Kjellgren, Escanaba couple who were killed February 1 in an auto accident on US-2 near Hermansville.

The suits allege the accident was "caused solely through the carelessness and negligence" of Mr. and Mrs. Kjellgren.

Filing the suits against Blanche O'Connor, administratrix of the couple's estates, were Edward Jasonowicz, administrator of the estate of the dead driver of the other car in the accident, Walter Jasonowicz, of Norway, Joseph Rocchetti, Norway, a passenger in Jasonowicz' car; Fedore Racine, administrator of the estate of the deceased Betty Anne Racine, Iron River, another passenger; and Betty J. Olson, Stambaugh, also a passenger.

The separate suits are for the following amounts: Estate of Walter Jasonowicz, $58,061.00; Rocchetti, $15,000.00; Estate of Betty Anne Racine, $35,904.00; and Miss Olson, $15,000.

The suits allege that Jasonowicz was driving his car "lawfully and in the exercise of due care" at the time of the accident, 1:20 a. m. CST.

They further allege that Mrs. Kjellgren was driving the Kjellgren's car at an unlawful and excessive rate of speed, and that she did not have the car under control. They claim she was driving to the left of the center line, and that she was not using due care and skill in the car's operation.

The suits also allege Mrs. Kjellgren was driving so fast she could not stop within the assured clear distance ahead, as required by law, and that she carelessly and negligently drove into the automobile operated by Jasonowicz.

Jasonowicz and Miss Racine were killed as a result of the accident. The suits allege that Miss Olson, a former dietitian at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Iron Mountain, and Rocchetti, were injured so grievously they have been unable to work, and will be unable to work indefinitely.

The Kjellgrens, who lived at 601 N. 19th St., were returning from a teamsters' union banquet in Iron Mountain at the time of the accident. They left two daughters, Nancy Ann, 17, and Mary Louise, 14.

MANHASSET, N. Y. —A party in Philadelphia. A barber shop on New York's East Side. An extensive estate here on Long Island. Talent and youth and romance.

Today it all added up to a wedding next month for a granddaughter of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the gifted pianist of an immigrant Italian barber.

She is Sara Delano Roosevelt, 21, daughter of James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President. The bridegroom-to-be is Anthony Di Bonaventura, 23, once a child prodigy at the piano, whose father operates a barber shop near the family's brownstone home on East 17th Street, Manhattan.

Sara's mother, now married to millionaire sportsman and financier John Hay Whitney, formally announced the engagement here Saturday night.

Yesterday Di Bonaventura's parents visited the Whitney estate and later told newsmen that their son is marrying into a very nice family.

The couple met at a party in Philadelphia more than a year ago. Both are studying in that area. She is a junior at Bryn Mawr College, and he graduates from the Curtis Institute of Music this month.

Sara had visited her fiancé's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Di Bonaventura, on 17th Street before the engagement was formally announced. Mrs. Di Bonaventura told a newsmen they liked her "very much."

Yesterday the Whitneys sent a limousine into Manhattan to take the Di Bonaventuras to the Long Island estate.

"Wonderful people, and they have a beautiful place — a mansion," said the elder Di Bonaventura after visiting the Whitneys, who are said to have about 54 million dollars.

Anthony, who expects to go into the Army in July, was at the estate for the week end.

He helped show his parents around the grounds with its stables, golf course, swimming pool and a glass-roofed field house, besides the main house.

The father reported he had a good time and met lots of people.

The prospective bride's mother, the former Betsy Cushing, divorced Roosevelt in 1940. The engagement announcement also disclosed that Whitney had legally adopted her daughter in 1949.

Long Strike Settled At General Electric Plant In Cleveland

CINCINNATI —The long, costly production strike at the sprawling General Electric Co. plant at Evendale ended last night as the third shift walked through plant gates—free of pickets for the first time since last March 14.

Members of two AFL and CIO union locals ended the 65-day strike by voting Sunday to accept contract settlement terms offered by the company last week. GE granted a six-to-eight-cent hourly hike. The unions had asked for 12 to 16 cents.

Local 647, CIO United Auto Workers, in a statement announcing the strike settlement blasted the Air Force for its role during the walkout.

The statement said that the Air Force refused to term jet engine production at Evendale "critical" although "it removed engines under a gun-at-your-back type of order."

The union claimed this "deprived workers of the normal bargaining pressure which is brought by the customer."

U. S. Has Big Stock Of Atomic Bombs, Congressman Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hinchshaw (R-Calif.), a member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, says the U. S. has "several times" as many A-bombs stockpiled as it needs to meet any Russian threat.

Hinchshaw made the statement yesterday on a radio-television program. Appearing with him were Representatives McCormack (D-Mass.) and Judd (R-Minn.) and Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.).

Hinchshaw and Judd defended President Eisenhower's proposal to cut Air Force appropriations by more than five billion dollars from the budget requested by former President Truman.

Stennis and McCormack argued against them, saying Air Force reduction would be a "mistake" comparable to similar cuts in 1949 before the Korean War broke out.

Release Of Bill Oatis Is Part Of Reds' New Peace Offensive

THE release from prison of William Oatis, Associated Press correspondent, who was jailed for two years by Czechoslovakia authorities on a trumped up charge of espionage, was not the result of a poignant appeal from his wife in America, as the Czechs claim. Appeals based on human dignities and sentiment have never been a factor in any actions of Communist leaders.

Rather, the freeing of Oatis is in conformity with the Reds' peace offensive. The release of Oatis was directed not in Prague but in Moscow. It was established as a condition to show good faith in Malenkov's peace movement.

Senate's Verbal Athlete

SEN. Wayne Morse, the self-proclaimed "liberal" independent who never lets a single one of his "liberal" moves escape the nation's attention, was in rare form the other day. He spoke continuously for 22 hours.

This is some sort of record, even for Morse, whose vocal chords are not easily overtaxed.

One might hope that in racking up the Oregonian borrowed heavily from his future talking time in the Senate and will now be silent a while to compensate. But perhaps this performance has only opened up new vistas to him, which he will proceed to explore regularly—and at great length.

It would be interesting to examine the field kit Morse takes along on these verbal safaris. One item would of course be a finely honed knife for the splitting of legal hairs and perhaps for cutting notches in his desk to serve as guideposts, Boy Scout style.

Another might be a small hammer for driving home points. He has too many to make to use the old fist-on-plain method. No human hands could stand it.

A listener's kit would be smaller. Just earmuffs.

Power With Words

there—"Can these sentences be defended. (a) "There are no end of good positions at the top." (b) "A total of 101,000 tests were made."—H. A. H., New Rochelle, N. Y.

The writer of sentence (a) slipped. The subject is not there, but the singular noun, end. The sentence should read, "There is no end, etc." In sentence (b), however, the writer took total to be a collective noun, just the same as though he had written, "A number of tests were made." On such an assumption, the sentence is properly written.

shall, will—"Which is proper to say, 'I shall read to you,' or 'I will read to you?'"—S. L. B., Oklahoma City, Okla.

According to the grammarians, nothing but simple future is indicated, so shall should be used after I or we. Many people avoid uncertainty, however, by using the contraction I'll, which may be interpreted as either I will or I shall.

subjunctive—"Which is correct, 'If I were going,' or, 'If I was going?'"—J. B. N., Chicago, Ill.

If you intend to suggest mere supposition, then the subjunctive, "If I were," is correct.

safe, safely—"May I say, 'I arrived safely with the boys,' or should it be safe?"—L. E. A., Norfolk, Va.

Either safe or safely may be used, but there is a difference in the sense that is conveyed. If you use the adjective safe, then it is the condition of the speaker that is referred to. That is, there may have been an accident along the way or upon arrival, but the speaker was uninjured. But if the adverb safely is used, then it is the manner of arrival is referred to. It is as the speaker had said, "I arrived in safety."

Congressional Quiz

By Congressional Quarterly

Q—How many people have taken advantage of the Fulbright student exchange program since it started?

A—More than 8,000 students, teachers, researchers and lecturers have gone abroad or have come to the U. S. to study under the Fulbright Act of 1946. Of these, 4,443 are Americans. Thirty countries have participated in the program, financed by the sale of surplus property left overseas at the end of World War II.

Q—Is spending for lobbying in Congress still on the increase?

A—Apparently not. Reported lobby spending in 1952 dropped to the lowest level since the Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act was passed. Groups registered under the lobbying act in 1952 reported to Congress that they had spent $4,833,981, compared with $8,771,097 reported for 1951 and 1950's peak $10,303,704.

Q—Who was the biggest spender among lobby groups last year?

A—Top spender for 1952 was the National Association of Electric Companies, which listed its expenditures as $477,942. Second largest spender reporting was the American Medical Association, with $309,315. Twenty four organizations spent more than $50,000 each.

—If a Communist pilot delivers a MIG fighter to the United Nations forces, will Congress have to make a special appropriation to pay the reward for the Red plane offered by Gen. Mark Clark?

A—The Defense Department's answer is "no." It has said that the money would be paid out of "Air Force contingency funds."

OPEN INSPECTION

(Marinette Eagle Star)

Erroneous impressions still prevail over the proposal to allow open inspection of certain public assistance records.

When the Assembly passed the Senate bill Friday, Assemblyman Arthur Peterson voiced the objection of the National Council of Churches that the bill was discriminatory in that it opened some aid rolls while records of some government activities were not open to the public. Mainly, it was argued, the bill would slow rehabilitation by attacking the self-respect of recipients.

As has been stated over and over again, the objective is to get rid of the chiselers on the relief rolls. Open inspection of certain public assistance records does not mean that newspapers are going to publish relief rolls, or that the names of relief recipients are going to be shouted from the housetops.

It will provide, however, an opportunity for town chairmen and other authorities who are familiar with local cases to determine whether taxpayers are being "taken for a ride" by some of the recipients. Most of all, it will discourage persons inclined to chisel, for open inspection of relief rolls would spot them quickly.

There is no expectation that open inspection will reveal a host of chiselers, but there is a certain small percentage of them who ought to be rooted out and this is the only way to do it.

It's our guess that a poor person knows how to spend more good time than a rich one.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—One of the most amazing backtracks of the Eisenhower administration took place very quietly a few days ago when it reversed a program for keeping rat droppings and weevil waste out of wheat and other grain sold to the American housewife.

The rat-cleanup program had begun last fall, Oct. 15, 1952, under the Democrats, and on April 6 was wided by the Food and Drug Administration under the Republicans. It was then extended to weevil-infested grain.

However, one of the first official acts of Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby after she became a full-fledged member of the Eisenhower cabinet was to suspend this grain-cleanup program by an order issued May 1. The Food and Drug Administration is under her. Simultaneously Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who was cooperating in the grain cleanup, also dropped the program.

The sudden reversal came after 45 carloads of wheat had been seized for having an excess of rat droppings. It also came after the program was vigorously opposed by big grain dealers, with several of them protesting direct to the White House.

Pressure against the cleanup program was also exerted by Sen. Andrew Schoepel of Kansas, who in turn was pressured by Walter Scott of the Kansas City Commodity Exchange. Kansas City grain dealers went so far as to threaten that they could not handle the southwest grain now stored in farm bins if the government persisted in its new program. They advocated a voluntary cleanup by the grain industry instead.

The government's grain cleanup actually had got under way with the encouragement of many millers and all the bakers. With their cooperation, the Food and Drug Administration last fall set standards whereby grain containing more than one rat dropping per pint of grain was condemned for human consumption but classified as O. K. for animal consumption. Likewise grain containing more than 20 surface weevils or other insects, dead or alive, per 1,000 grams of wheat would be declared unfit for human consumption, but could be used for animal food.

The grain trade objected to this partly on the ground that it set up two standards for grain: That for human consumption and that for animals. Grain dealers also claimed that their own voluntary cleanup program was sufficient.

However, Food and Drug Commissioner Charles Crawford and his assistant, George Larrick, went ahead with the cleanup program. Immediately there arose an angry demand from the grain lobby that they and two assistants, John L. Harvey and M. R. Stephens, be fired. For a time Mrs. Hobby was on the verge of doing so.

Then, as the scandal over firing Dr. Allen Astin of the Bureau of Standards got hot, advisers cautioned that the Eisenhower administration couldn't afford another firing scandal, and Mrs. Hobby decided to let them remain.

GOVERNMENT HAS WEEVILS TOO
Thereafter, pressure was brought on the Agriculture Department and on the White House direct. The Commodity Credit Corporation, the arm of the Agriculture Department which stores grain under the price-support program, was warned that some of its own grain would be declared unfit for human consumption. Under the new inspection program, Secretary Benson was told by grain dealers that about $25,000,000 worth of government grain would be declared weevil-infested.

A meeting held at the Department of Agriculture, attended by some of the biggest grain men in the country, also dropped veiled threats that they wouldn't store the bumper wheat crop expected this summer which the government must handle for farmers.

Simultaneously, the senate agriculture committee under the prodding of GOP Senator Young of North Dakota hauled up George Larrick, Food and Drug deputy commissioner, gave him a stiff senatorial third degree.

Testifying against him was William F. Brooks, executive secretary of the National Grain Trade Council.

Finally, Mrs. Hobby and Secretary Benson tossed in the towel. They issued joint statements abandoning federally inspected grain, said they were going back to the old system of "voluntary cooperation" to prevent grain contamination.

Regal Festivities:

Hot Milk, Lamp Pole Grease, To Have Place In Coronation

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

and TOM A. CULLEN

NEA Correspondents

LONDON (NEA)—The planning for the Coronation festivities is about done. They've even worked out all details for the lamp-pole grease and the hot milk.

The grease will be applied to all the lamp posts along the procession route. No shinning up poles on Coronation day. It isn't considered dignified.

As for the hot milk, that's a must for the 40,000 school children invited to watch the big doings. They'll also be given flags to wave, and sandwiches to eat.

Those 40,000 are among the lucky ones who'll have choice seats as the young Queen and her entourage move from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey. Altogether, seating accommodations are being built for 100,000. Of these, only 4000 have been allotted to overseas visitors, including Commonwealth subjects and Americans.

Since travel agents and shipping lines estimate 40,000 Americans will be in England for the Coronation, less than 10 per cent will actually see any part of the ceremony. An American with a ship or plane ticket should reconcile himself to seeing the main event on a television screen.

Londoners who live along the route have been licking their financial chops, figuring on making quite a profit out of selling window space. So far, they've been disappointed. Most Britons seem to prefer watching on TV. Perhaps when the foreign influx arrives, the windows will command the expected $45 to $90 price. But, at the moment, no.

Actually, there is much logic to the lately-felt preference for TV over on-the-spot viewing of the procession. Stay-at-homes will miss the excitement of the crowd, of course, and the gay colors of the historical costumes. But against this is the fact that seats have to be occupied several hours before the ceremony begins, and the actual parade will last at the most 20 minutes each way, if that.

And, on TV, the whole ancient rites will be visible, not just a few hasty glimpses of gilded carriages and scarlet tunics. Viewers will see the Queen for more than two solid hours.

That's just one headache facing the American tourists. Another is the hotel situation. Every hotel in London is sold out for one week before and after the Coronation. Those who have reservations in the swank hotels will get the standard Coronation fare—champagne with breakfast.

Travel agencies are booking tourists into places as far distant as Brighton and Eastbourne, more than 50 miles from the center of London.

Also being used are luxury liners, moored along the Thames; some dual estates complete with butler and $600 a week charges; 7000 London homes, where "bed and breakfast" is available, for from $1.20 to $9 a night; and, for those who like their Coronations quiet, the British Travel and Holidays Association has also listed a convent and two monasteries as offering accommodations.

The grandstand ordeal for street spectators will be mild compared

GRANDSTAND CROWD'S ORDEAL will be a long and tiresome wait for a glimpse of the procession as it passes each way. This was what the street watches saw when George VI was crowned HOT MILK will be ready for school children, like these two trying out stands.

LAMP-POLE decor for Coronation includes fancywork — and grease to prevent shinning.

to the strain TV will mean for Elizabeth II.

It is reported she is somewhat apprehensive of the almost superhuman performance demanded of her in the two hours she will be under the glare of flood lights, but she is determined to see it through.

She plans to rehearse in Westminster Abbey, first without and then with ceremonial robes and crown, and realizes she cannot afford the slightest error or sign of fatigue. Her only moment of respite will be when she takes Holy Communion and kneels in silent prayer.

The Royal Family fears the slightest slip-up, for history proves there's been at least one at every Coronation. The Archbishop of Canterbury almost dropped the heavy crown as he was about to place it on the head of Elizabeth's father, George VI. And at her own Coronation, Queen Victoria had to rise and assist an ancient lord who tripped on the steps to the throne.

So They Say

I think they (the people) have seen the folly of much of this excessive support program in recent years. —Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

REVISING A CHARTER—The Escanaba Charter Revision Commission of nine members, elected by the citizens of the city in April, is busily at work with the task of bringing the 1921 city charter up to date.

Chairman of the Commission is Carl Sawyer, businessman and former councilman and mayor of Escanaba. On the Commission are eight other persons elected by the voters, giving a cross-section of community thinking.

They include a teacher, an attorney, an accountant, and businessmen and women. In electing them to the Commission the citizens of Escanaba expressed confidence they would do what was best for all of the people of the community in framing a revised charter.

This revised charter will later be submitted to the people to adopt or reject. How well the Commission serves will be indicated in the people's opinion of the charter it proposes.

SUCCESS AND FAILURE—A number of other Michigan communities sought to have the people approve the question of charter revision in elections held last month. Some were successful and others failed.

Ann Arbor endorsed the charter revision proposal by a better than 9 to 1 margin.

In Iron Mountain the people voted down charter revision study 1,776 to 667. Not very far west of Iron Mountain the people of Iron River approved a new charter by a vote of about 7 to 1.

At Mt. Clemens, Mich., the voters turned thumbs down on a new and modern charter. The proposal failed by 71 votes.

And in Escanaba the vote was decisive for charter revision but not overwhelming. The vote in favor of electing a charter commission and studying methods to improve it totaled 1,529, while 1,197 were against it.

NOTHING NEW—Charter revision, as it may be seen from the above, is nothing new to cities in Michigan and in other states.

The sole purpose of revising a charter is to make it a better instrument under which city government serves its citizens.

Sometimes an old charter hampers efficiency or fails to define policy necessary to meet conditions as they exist today.

Often it does not provide for public services the people may want—if they had the opportunity of obtaining them. Only by charter revision or amendment of the existing charter can certain changes be accomplished.

It is encouraging to note that within recent years a number of cities, including Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette, have approved revised charters to permit city government meet the needs of today.

THE PEOPLE DECIDE—Under law it is impossible for any particular group or interest to foist an unwanted charter, original or revised, upon the people.

For it is the citizens of the city who will decide whether they will adopt the charter, which must be first submitted to the governor for approval and then to the voters for adoption.

In Escanaba, for example, the Charter Revision Commission will, as its study progresses, hold several public hearings as charter changes are suggested. The Commission desires to frame a charter that will meet the community's needs and the desires of its people.

HOUSE TO LIVE IN—It is not our purpose to attempt to detail any of the present deficiencies of Escanaba's present city charter, which was adopted by the people Aug. 29, 1921.

Briefly, however, we might consider the present charter as a house plan held most desirable 32 years ago, but now outmoded in some minor but essential details.

To carry the example a bit farther, the city's 1921 charter doesn't provide for built-in cupboards in the kitchen or an attached garage. And unless the charter is revised this city charter "house" that protects our people will become more unsatisfactory as the years pass.

It is better to do a little charter remodeling occasionally than to wait until major repairs are necessary.

A writer says the average American stands up for himself. Indicating the drastic need for more buses.

Gov. Williams Fumes As Solons Dawdle With New Tax Laws

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (P)—Gov. Williams is going to choke with frustration pretty soon if the Legislature doesn't either fumble or settle the tax issue.

Here four months of his third term in office have gone by and he hasn't been able to take one good crack at those awful Republican bills.

The governor personally tied a knot in his tongue and put a strait-jacket on his impish press agent, Paul Weber, in the hopes that the administration and the Legislature could work out a "bipartisan" solution of the state's deficit.

Still Seeking Solution
And all the time, the clock ticks away the previous moments in which Williams could be running for governor or U. S. senator or whatever he plans to run for in 1954.

For months the Legislature has bickered and stalled on the tax issue, and now comes up to the final week of the 1953 session still working on a solution.

Can you imagine the fun Williams could have had with the boys for months past if he had not gone and gotten an attack of statesmanship?

For many weeks of the session Williams met once a week with select Republican leaders in the hope of gently euchring them into a solution acceptable to himself.

These were kept closed to the press for the most part in the hope of achieving some solid, sensible discussion instead of speeches intended to impress the folks back home.

Fireworks To Come
In the last month, the governor has quietly abandoned his bipartisan tax talks. As the pressure got heavy, the lawmakers got more and more quarrelsome, both among themselves and with the governor.

Williams has consistently refused to discuss any tax proposal until it reaches his desk. Only one did so, a kind of stopgap measure, and he signed it reluctantly on the theory that a veto at such a strategic moment might send the Republican wolves howling.

But in the next week or so, the Legislature may present Williams with the big tax decision and then the fireworks barrel can be uncovered.

The best information seems to be that if the Republicans present Williams with any kind of a tax bill which he can swallow, he'll accept it and then start out on the campaign trail wrapped in the toga of statesmanship.

Ready For Anything
It is expected he will be very high level about it all.

"We—me and the GOP—did it together," Williams probably will say.

But if the GOP hands him a tax bill which he can't accept, or one on which he thinks a veto will draw gasps of relief from the taxpayers, then the governor will be in just the situation he enjoys.

Draped in outraged indignation that the GOP could have been so reckless with the substance of our people, Williams will take to the stump four months behind in his needling and the election only 18 months away.

He'll be over in Sandusky advising the parents it's too bad the Republicans stopped their enrollment padding. And pointing out that if we'd had a Democratic superintendent of public instruction it would have been stopped sooner.

He'll meet the vacationers at the docks in Mackinaw City and ask them how they like the increase in state ferry rates.

He will commiserate with the Upper Peninsula because they lost a House seat under reapportionment, and remind the folks in Detroit that they'd have gotten more seats away from the Upper Peninsula if they'd followed his advice.

Oh, there are so many little gems wrapped away in Weber's files just a-mouldering with disuse.

Let's hope the governor doesn't have to impose self-restraint on himself much longer. He'll blow up.

Hindu Wives File Maintenance Suits

NEW DELHI (P)—Maintenance suits by wives against husbands, once virtually unknown in India, are being filed in a New Delhi court at the rate of two daily. A woman magistrate has been detailed to handle them.

Court records show that both young and old turn to law for help against uncooperative husbands. One plaintiff was a 75-year-old woman who complained her 85-year-old spouse was wasting their money on a son-in-law. Another was a 11-year-old child bride suing her 17-year-old mate for support.

Approximately half the suits are decided by the woman magistrate in favor of the complaining wives, but allowances are not lavish. The largest to date was for $16.80 per month.

Criminals Young In Philadelphia

By BILL LOFTUS

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Crime fighters in Philadelphia believe they're inching forward in the fight to curb the rising rate of juvenile delinquency in the City of Brotherly Love.

But despite their co-ordinated efforts, which include a doubled juvenile delinquency police division, civic and church groups and other alerted citizens, arrests in the first three months of 1953 jumped 13 per cent over 1952.

Seven Stabbed

In that 13 per cent increase are two crimes—allegedly committed by gangs of boys—which drew as much front page display in local newspapers at the time as the Korean peace talks.

One involved the stabbing of seven persons in one night including two men over 70, by boys police said were "fired up" by drinking quarts of wine purchased by an adult at a state liquor store. The two elderly men died. The gang was arrested.

In the second, five young men, ranging from 16 to 18, are charged with robbing a taproom and shooting a patron who threw a glass of beer at one of the youths. The patron died. The youths are awaiting trial.

Complaints Increase

Obviously a group interested in curbing juvenile delinquency starts with the police force. The juvenile division of Philadelphia's police force has been increased 100 per cent.

Outside help comes from organizations aligned with the Crime Prevention Association, organized two years ago as part of city-wide movement for better government. These groups make investigations of the juvenile's home and environment.

Despite these drives on the post-arrest front, the number of complaints about juveniles has jumped this year.

Arrests in 1952 totaled 5,833 from 5,071 in 1951. Of this group, 851 were committed to institutions and 1,859 were placed on probation.

The others went free after a talking-to by police officers and interviews with social welfare workers.

What are the reasons for the upsurge? The association in its report for 1952 cites these as part of the problem and points out some remedies it is working on:

1. The rise in the population of juveniles of 10 to 17.
2. The restlessness of youth due to unsettlement of the Korean War and the prospect of draft and service in the armed forces.
3. The sales of liquor to minors in taprooms and sale of alcohol to adults for use by minors. The association has recommended amendment of the state penal code to make such sales a specific crime, punishable by imprisonment.
4. "Overworked teachers and student counsellors who must be given additional help."
5. The need for more recreational facilities for group activities to cut down growth of gangs.

6. The small probation staff in the juvenile court which, the association says, can't keep up with the number of cases which need constant checking.

7. A modern youth study center where juvenile delinquents can be treated separately.

Scientists Find Ancient Doodle

WASHINGTON—Scientists have discovered what may be history's first doodle.

They cannot yet read the writing that accompanies the doodle, but a little dancing figure scratched carelessly in the clay of an account tablet was clearly drawn by an ancient Greek businessman with his mind on other things.

The tablet with its 3,000-year-old doodle was among important archeological discoveries made recently in the ruins of Mycenae on the Greek Peloponnese, says the National Geographic Society. Clay tablets covered with still-undeciphered Minoan-Mycenaean script were found in shop ruins dating from the 13th century B. C., proving that businessmen as well as palace scribes knew how to write in those early times.

Six Royal Graves

An even more important discovery at Mycenae was a group of six royal graves which may help to identify the ancestors of Homer's heroes.

Bones of these rulers of the middle Bronze Age were of tall strongly built men, indicating that earlier inhabitants of Greece were succeeded by hardy invaders from the north. These apparent newcomers, probably the first to speak a form of Greek, were regarded as native Achaeans in Homer's "Iliad."

The skeletons and artifacts being studied by scientists are among the most dramatic discoveries at Mycenae since 1876, when the pioneer archeologist Heinrich Schliemann dug up treasure-rich graves he thought belonged to warriors of the great epic poems. Actually, Schliemann's discoveries as well as the recent finds are of Mycenaean rulers who preceded by some 400 years the golden age of which Homer sang.

Bronze Age City

Mycenae, crowning a rocky promontory, controlled the Argive plain on Greece's Peloponnese and guarded the important road from the Gulf of Argolis to the Gulf of Corinth. It was a city stronghold from the beginning of the Bronze Age some 3,000 years before the Christian era began. The newer Bronze Age people appear to have invaded the region about 2000 B. C. and absorbed the culture of the near-by island of Crete.

After 1400 B. C., when Crete's power had collapsed, "golden" Mycenae took a leading place in the Mediterranean world and gave its name to an entire culture. Mycenaean objects have been found as far away as Egypt, Palestine and Sicily. To this great age belong Mycenae's massive ruins and domed "beehive" tombs as well as the tales of its King Agamemnon riding forth to the Trojan War in the 12th century.

Then the Dorians, wielding iron weapons, invaded Greece, and Mycenae fell. During classical Greek times it was a relatively unimportant town, although it sent troops to fight the Persians and was itself fought over by warring Greek states. In later Roman times it was deserted.

Argentina Bomb Plot Broken Up

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—

Police security squads guarded all public buildings and railway and subway stations today following disclosure by the government that it had uncovered a plot to bomb President Peron's office and burn down the Capitol and other major buildings.

Police said yesterday the vast arson plot was laid by a clique of Argentine political exiles who sneaked back into the country from neighboring Uruguay. The ring leader, a Socialist party member, still was at large, the authorities added.

Investigators said documents and explosives were found at a conspirator's home. The detailed plans reportedly revealed a scheme to blast the presidential office building last Wednesday just as Peron was entering for a Cabinet meeting. The exile group also was said to have plotted to burn down the Ministry of Labor, the Officers Club and the new building of the General Confederation of Labor (CGT).

At least six persons have been killed in 14 recent bombings in Argentina.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Slightly lower prices were the rule today in the stock market with trading quiet.

Over the weekend there was no news that provided stimulation for either buying or selling. Many felt that it would be best to await the presidential address Tuesday night on defense and related problems before taking an active role in the stock market.

Lower stocks included Santa Fe, New York Central, Standard Oil N. J., American Telephone, Dow Chemical, Republic Steel, General Motors, and Douglas Aircraft.

Higher were Chesapeake & Ohio, Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, U. S. Steel and Studebaker.

Congressional Quiz

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

Q—How often does Congress hold executive or "closed" Committee hearings, those where the public is not allowed?

A—From Jan. 3 to March 31, Congressional Committees and Subcommittees met 659 times, excluding House Appropriations Subcommittee sessions on budgetary matters. Of the 659 meetings, 217 or 32.9 per cent were closed to the public; 22 or 3.3 per cent were partly closed, partly open, meetings; and 420 or 63.7 per cent were open.

Q—What subject is most often considered at closed Committee meetings?

A—Aside from appropriations hearings, usually closed, the largest number of closed hearings of one type were on general and secret government affairs or were preliminary to open sessions on such matters. There were 85 of these, 38 by Senate Committees, 47 by House Committees. Among witnesses at them were Gen. James A. Van Fleet on Korean ammunition shortages, and Mutual Security Director Harold Stassen and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on foreign commitments.

Q—Is Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, new Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the first woman to hold a cabinet post?

A—No, she is the second. Miss Frances Perkins was Secretary of Labor under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Q—What is the difference between an appropriation and a contract authorization?

A—An appropriation is the authority to spend money from the Treasury for payment of new obligations or for liquidating contracts previously authorized. Contract authorization is permission to obligate or commit money for later expenditure when the funds have been appropriated. A contract authorization does not allow actual spending.

Q—How many trade agreements has the U. S. made with other nations under the reciprocal trade agreements act?

A—Since 1934, when the Trade Agreements Act was enacted, this country has made 38 trade agreements with a total of 50 countries. The agreements were to reduce U. S. import restrictions in return for concessions by the foreign nations.

Q—What has been proposed for the government-owned synthetic rubber plants?

A—President Eisenhower recommended to Congress April 14 that the $550 million rubber plants under government ownership be sold to private industry. He said the disposal must be in line with three objectives: The facilities should return to the government "their full fair value," they should be disposed of in a manner that would insure the public and fabricators "the benefits of fair competition," and they should be sold "on such terms as will guarantee their ready availability . . . in time of emergency."

Q—What procedure is required for amending the U. S. Constitution?

A—The Constitution itself states in Article V: "The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress . . ."

Q—Could a Constitutional amendment be proposed and ratified without a vote of Congress?

A—According to the American Law Section of the Library of Congress, this is an academic question since all amendments so far have been proposed by Congress. However, the legal specialists said even if Congress did not propose the amendment and the alternative method for proposing an amendment—by Constitutional convention—were employed, the Congress probably would have to vote on a resolution to submit the amendment proposed by Constitutional Convention to the states for ratification.

Q—What is former Senate Democratic Leader McFarland doing now?

A—Former Sen. Ernest W. McFarland (Ariz., Democratic leader, has registered under the Federal Regulation of Lobbying law as an agent for Western Union Telegraph, R. C. A. Communications, Inc., and American Cable and Radio Corporation in connection with a possible merger of the three firms. His predecessor as Democratic Senate Leader, former Sen. Scott Lucas (Ill.) is also registered under the lobbying law.

Truman Says He'd Like To Be 19 Again

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman, at 69, says he'd give anything "if the good Lord would let me be 19 again."

The former President told children at the religious school of Congregation B'Nai Jehudah yesterday he'd like to be 19 so that he might live during the next 50 years.

"You are at the end of one age and the beginning of another," he said. "You young people are going to see the development of the atomic age. It's a great responsibility you face."

Truman, who has said he likes to tour the nation talking to young people about their opportunities and responsibilities, also told the children:

"You always must do right. It will please some people and astonish the rest."

Twins, 4, Suffer With Hemophelia

By LLOYD WOLFE

SAYRE, Okla. (AP)—Four-year-old Wayne Moses, suffering from an incurable blood disease, won another battle for survival this week after 17 transfusions during the past two months.

Wayne and his twin brother Gene are victims of hemophelia, a rare disease which prevents blood from clotting normally. A cut on the finger, a small bruise or a sharp blow will start a hemorrhage which can result in a major crisis in the youngsters' life.

Every precaution is taken to guard the boys from nicks or scratches. They drink from rubber glasses, eat out of plastic plates.

"I guard them at all times," said their mother, Mrs. Sol Moses, who estimates they have had about 5 transfusions each during their young lives.

"When they go out to play I'm always there to supervise. I even had to put beaver board over their bedroom windows to prevent them from cutting themselves.

"We never use knives at our dining room table. We cut our food with a fork or just pull it apart with our fingers."

The boys' father explained the transfusions they get vary from a half to a full pint.

Mrs. Moses said the twins, who will be 5 in August, are old enough now to realize they are "bleeders."

But she added they forget very quickly when at play. Two months ago, after a long period of guarded behavior, Wayne fell from his tricycle and injured his hip. It took 17 transfusions and weeks of anguish before the bleeding stopped. Because of internal bleeding, his joints had swelled and forced him to remain in bed. Today, Wayne is learning how to walk again.

Hemophelia is a hereditary disease transmitted by females. But doctors say it strikes only males.

Dock Shipments Reach Heavy Volume

Workers at the ore docks loaded 222,793 tons of ore into ore boats last week, according to figures released this morning by the docks.

Up to 7 this morning the docks had shipped 1,174,828 tons this season, 185,440 tons more than they had shipped by the same date last year.

British Torpedo Boat Destroyed By Blast; Stoker Badly Burned

AARHUS, Denmark (AP)—A violent explosion aboard a British naval motor torpedo boat destroyed the craft and shattered thousands of windows in the port area here yesterday. One sailor was seriously burned and three others received slight injuries.

The P1023's chief stoker, the only serious casualty, reportedly was starting the 50-ton vessel's electrical plant when sparks held. The vessel was taking part touched off gasoline fumes in the in NATO naval maneuvers.

Detroit Industrialist Nominated For New Ambassador To Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has nominated Arthur Gardner, Detroit and Washington industrialist and banker, to be ambassador to Cuba.

Gardner, 64, would succeed Willard L. Beaulac, who is returning from Havana for reassignment.

Gardner is first vice president of the Bundy Tubing Co., the world's largest producer of small diameter tubing. It makes 90 per cent of the tubing for the motor industry.

Gardner was an assistant to the secretary of the Treasury from 1946 to 1948 and before that was a dollar-a-year official of the War Production Board in the aircraft production field. He is a Republican.

Military Reservist Setup Investigated; Host Of Complaints

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee has launched an investigation into whether the nation's two million military reservists are being fairly treated and adequately trained.

A subcommittee will hold open hearings soon as a result of what Rep. Leroy Johnson (R-Calif.) said was a "host of complaints" that reserve programs are being poorly administered.

Johnson, head of the subcommittee, said the probe would cover every aspect of the comprehensive reserve program, from the actual training to the way the Pentagon treats veterans who remain in a reserve status after serving in combat.

Rep. Brooks of Louisiana, ranking Democratic member, said in a separate interview the investigation may prompt congressional recommendations to "put some muscle" into some aspects of the reserve program.

All inductees have a reserve obligation for six years after completing two years' active service. Thousands of others, including veterans and graduates of military training programs, have reserve status.

Military officials have told Congress repeatedly that the reserves form an essential backbone in case armed strength must be expanded. Defense Secretary Wilson cited the large number of reserves as one justification for his current policy of pruning military manpower.

But the congressmen said their mail has produced these, among other complaints.

1. Some reservists draw pay for what is supposed to be an evening's training but spend their time playing cards because there is no training program.

2. Many regular officers assigned to oversee reserve programs are merely awaiting retirement and have little interest in their jobs.

3. Veterans back from Korea have no assurance they will be classified properly to avoid immediate recall to emergency duty.

Buying Slacks Off In Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the first three months of 1953, reports the Department of Commerce, the U. S. kept on making more things and earning more money.

But businessmen now seem to be buying only about as much as they are selling, the department's business economics office reported yesterday.

The report said the total market value of all goods and services was at an annual rate of 361 billion dollars for the first quarter of 1953. It was 359 billions during last October-November-December.

Personal income was at an annual rate of 281 billions for this year's first three months, compared with 277 billions the previous three months.

But, the agency added, most production was matched by sales for final use during the first quarter of 1953, whereas in the last quarter of 1952 eight billion dollars of goods went into inventory.

Wedded 50 Years, Charlotte Man, 72, Turns Gun On Wife

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Emil Marshall, 72, who recently celebrated the 50th anniversary of his wedding to his wife, Kathryn, was held in jail here today. He was accused of shooting his lifelong companion.

On May 9, shortly after the golden anniversary celebration, Mrs. Marshall, also 72, filed suit for divorce.

Sheriff's officers said that last night while she was sitting with a grandchild in Bellevue, Marshall fired a shotgun through a window. The charge struck Mrs. Marshall in the right shoulder. She was reported in good condition at Leila Hospital in Battle Creek.

Deputies said Marshall, who had been drinking, also threatened to shoot a son at the home but the son disarmed him.

Non-Farm Dwellings Ahead Of Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported Saturday that a total of 110,000 non-farm dwelling units were started in April—13 per cent more than in April last year. For the first four months of this year, January through April, there were 356,100 housing starts.

This compares with 352,700 for the same period last year and 412,300 for the same period in the peak homebuilding year of 1950.

All Signs Indicate All-Color In Movies

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Movies are looking rosier in Hollywood these days, but that doesn't mean that business is on the upswing. It's just that the film industry is moving closer to an all-color output.

All signs point to color. Observers note that there will be a paltry nine feature films shooting in town next week. That's the lowest figure since anyone can remember. Production will doubtless pick up a bit, but Hollywood may never again see the fat shooting schedules of the lush days.

Run Is Longer
The new - dimensional pictures appear to have more staying power than the flaties. Cinemas may have a two-year run in New York. "House of Wax" is playing extra weeks in all locations. Films like "The Robe" will probably have runs of many months.

Since pictures can be played longer, fewer will be made. And it is logical that most if not all of those will be in color.

Margarine Legal In School Lunch

LANSING (AP)—Public schools may serve oleomargarine for student lunches under a bill which cleared the Legislature yesterday and went to the governor.

The measure puts schools along with state prisons as the only public institutions allowed to forego the ban on butter substitutes.

The Detroit school system forced the Legislature's hand by defying state food inspectors and serving oleo. Detroit threatened a court test of the entire law.

Measure Weakened
The Senate passed the long-fought used car title transfer tax, but weakened it so badly the State Revenue Department said it was virtually worthless.

The Senate exempted from the three per cent use tax on isolated car sale a year between individuals. The bill had been sought to stop the untaxed sale of used cars by non-licensed sellers.

The Senate joined the House in approving centralization of auto driver licensing in the Department of State. The state police now share the duty with that agency.

The bill provides for a central file of traffic violators and provides that all driver licenses shall expire each two years on the licensee's birthday. This removes the necessity for mailing expiration notices to motorists.

The fee for renewing licenses is raised from $1.25 to $1.50 and a new fee of $3 is imposed for an initial license.

Would Abolish Coroners
The Senate also voted to reenact a law requiring residential building contractors in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties to be examined and licensed as a weapon against fraud on home owners. A somewhat similar law was upset by the State Supreme Court last year.

A bill permitting all counties to abolish the office of coroner was passed 60-28 by the House yesterday after it had attached a referendum clause.

As the measure goes back to the Senate for concurrence in amendments, it permits county boards of supervisors to approve replacing the coroners with medical examiners but requires that the move be approved by a vote of the people before it takes effect.

By the bare majority of 51 votes to 39 the House accepted the Senate version of a bill to open all welfare rolls to public inspection. The bill now goes to the governor.

Passed and sent to the Senate was a proposed new rule barring all state department heads and their representatives except for elected state officials from the floor of either chamber while the Legislature is in session.

Sound Waves Tried For Drilling Teeth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is planning research to determine if it's possible to prepare teeth for filling by using "silent sound waves" instead of a dental drill.

Some "preliminary" experiments with two dogs have proved promising, naval dental officials said today in an interview.

They emphasized, however, that extensive experiments would have to be carried on with animals before it could be determined whether "ultrasonic energy" would be feasible for use in human dentistry.

Such sound waves are of such high frequency that they can not be detected by the unaided human ear.

Ultrasonic energy is not entirely new to medicine, although it would be to dentistry.

For some time, certain European investigators have been employing ultrasonic devices for treating certain neuromuscular conditions. The function of these machines is to provide a heating effect on deep-seated tissues, like bone marrow and muscular tissue.

In the last year or so, a few American investigators have been employing similar devices, but some doctors say sufficient evidence has not yet been accumulated to determine whether the technique is of value in the treatment of human ailments.

A year ago last fall, a team of Mayo Foundation researchers told a meeting of the Southern Medical Association that doctors should guard against any indiscriminate use of such devices lest they do harm to patients.

Formosa Stakes Out Claim To Okinawa

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese Nationalists apparently hope that Okinawa and the rest of the Ryukyus, strategic Pacific islands between Formosa and Japan, one day will come back to Chinese rule.

Evidence of this was provided by a letter sent to Foreign Minister George Yeh by the control Yuan, Free China's highest watchdog body. The letter, inspired by press reports that Japan intended to discuss with the United States the "problem of the Ryukyus," asked Yeh to pay close attention to the situation.

The Nationalists all along have claimed the Ryukyus were part of the Chinese empire before they were taken by Japan.

Folks of old Ireland considered butter a principal food, but liked it mixed with garlic and aged in the ground, acquiring a rich rancid flavor.

Crossed Eyes Can Be Easily Corrected

ANN ARBOR—Don't believe the old wife's tale that a child will outgrow crossed eyes, cautions a University of Michigan eye specialist.

If the eyes are allowed to remain crossed, warns Dr. Stanley P. Oleksy of the U-M Medical School, one eye usually develops defective vision which cannot be corrected with glasses or other means in later years.

A complete eye examination by a competent specialist should be made when the child is very young, advises the ophthalmologist. He explains that this is the only way to get an accurate evaluation of the condition and of possible ways to treat it.

Surgery to correct crossed eyes is relatively simple after proper evaluation has been made, he states. Shortening or lengthening an eye muscle will not harm the eye because the work is not done inside the sight organ, Dr. Oleksy asserts.

However, an operation is not always necessary, as glasses often are successful in correcting the condition, he adds.

Tokyo Cabaret Guests Rolled

TOKYO (AP)—Unless you're an expert at judo or a millionaire itching for a spending spree, you'd better shy away from Shibuya, the stronghold of Tokyo's strong-arm girls.

About 200 cabarets cluster within a few narrow blocks in the Shibuya district. These establishments hire about 1,000 girls to go out to the streets and pick up guests—forcibly, if they must.

Each of the girls has a manual of field tactics giving instructions on how to get customers. It's not a gentle art. A sample text from the field manual:

"When you pick him up, crowd him from the right, seize his right arm, then yell and pull the stunned man up without allowing him to make the least resistance."

The captive "guests" usually are released after being squeezed of all their money. Sometimes watches, coats, hats and other valuables are held—supposedly to pay for their bills.

The bills are fantastic. A bottle of Japanese beer normally sells for 30 cents at any liquor store in Tokyo. In the Shibuya cabarets, police say, the price ranges from $3 to $7 a bottle. The bills are quickly swollen by the hungry and thirsty girls who help themselves freely at the captive's expense. It's not unusual for a "guest's" bill to reach $100 after an hour or so of this sort of thing.

Japanese police, of course, frown on this practice. But the newly democratized laws of Japan allow them to arrest the strong-arm girls only in the act—that is, while they are dragging in their prey "against visible resistance."

Senate Bill Aimed At Vacation Racket Of Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee has approved a bill to bar top government officials from collecting cash settlements for unused vacations.

But the bill, as the committee approved it yesterday, would allow the President if he wishes, to give his appointees longer vacations than the 13 days a year now allowed by law.

The measure stemmed from disclosure that many outgoing members of the Truman administration collected thousands of dollars for vacation leave they had accumulated but never used.

Sen. Williams (R-Del.) had charged, too, that some government workers were fired one day, paid in cash for vacation leave due, then hired back within a few hours. He called it a racket.

Set Trap For Skunk, Caught His Goose

GLENDIVE, Mont. (AP)—Life for a goose who laid vanishing eggs ended in a bear trap.

John Oljar, owner of the goose, thought a skunk was stealing eggs from the bird's nest. He set a huge bear trap for the culprit with a hen's egg as bait.

The "culprit," having hidden her eggs, waddled back to the nest to pick up the bait. She stuck her neck out and that was that.

Owner Oljar found one dead duck—er, goose.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor of New Mexico

XI

Friends often ask me how things are arranged at Buckingham Palace. Is there someone for every job that has to be done? Indeed there is.

One day Princess Elizabeth came to me very worried because she had been kept awake most of the night by the scraping and scratching of a mouse.

"I'll send for the Vermin Man," I said.

"Oh, Crawford, do you have to? Couldn't we just catch it ourselves," she said, "and then let it loose in the garden? I'm sure it doesn't mean any harm."

I am not afraid of mice. But I did not welcome the prospect of spending half the night on my knees coaxing a mouse into a bag and then smuggling it out into the garden.

"I think we'd better get expert advice," I said. "He knows how to do it better than we do."

The Lord Chamberlain's Office publishes a little book stamped with the Crown emblem, "Offices and Addresses of Their Majesties' Households and Officers of State and other Royal Households."

It is known in the Palace as the Green Book, and contains, as it says, the names and addresses of all who work in or are connected with the Royal houses.

It is a useful volume, because one can turn in a second to the appropriate person to solve any problem.

There in the front is a list of the Cabinet, followed by a list of Ministers not in the Cabinet. Then comes a detailed list of the Royal Household, starting off in alphabetical order with the Aides de Camp, First and Principal Naval—through to Keepers of the King's Archives, Resident Factor at Balmoral, Clerk of the Closet, Equerries, Extra Equerries, Gentlemen Ushers, and so on for 72 pages.

But there are several people who attend the Household whose names do not figure in the Green Book. The Vermin Man is one.

On Guard Against Mice

Like most old buildings with many cupboards and corridors, Buckingham Palace is on constant guard against mice. If you thought you had heard one, all you had to do was summon the Vermin Man and he would undertake to rid your room of the pest.

I told the footman that we wanted to see the Vermin Man and would he please ask him to come to Princess Elizabeth's rooms.

At 2.30 exactly there came a knock on the door and the man appeared, carrying his tools in a large bag.

He inspected the floorboards and wainscot and said he saw definite evidence of a mouse being there. Then he brought out his traps and asked the Princess which she preferred.

One was the kind with a spring clip which is released when the mouse tries to get the piece of cheese it carries as bait.

The other was what he called the Treacle Trap. It was built on a piece of wood about a foot square covered with a sticky mess of glue-like substance surrounding a little platform on which was some food flavored with aniseed. Apparently aniseed is as irresistible to mice as it is to dogs. "The mouse is lured by the smell," the man explained. "It tries to get to the aniseed, and is caught in the treacle."

Sympathetic Nature

"What happens after that?" asked Princess Elizabeth.

"It is trapped and dies through exhaustion in trying to get away," the man said.

I saw the Princess shudder and knew that the thought of the little creature fighting for its life would torture her.

"I'll have the other sort," she said, without comment.

It is hard for a sensitive person whose feelings are a barometer upon which other people's hard-luck stories play to keep their sympathetic approach.

Mothers would often write to Princess Elizabeth appealing to her to get their sons out of jail. "He has so little and you have so much . . ."

And occasionally would come graver appeals for her to save a man sentenced to death. Always these letters would grieve her deeply.

She would try to understand why people committed crimes, and even when that was beyond her comprehension, still keep her sympathy for them.

"They don't know what they're doing," she would say. "No one could really kill another human being if he was in his right mind."

It distressed her that there was nothing she could do to help these troubled mothers. All such letters were passed to the Home Office.

But no one who wrote to her, whatever the request, had the letter cast aside. Princess Elizabeth would always read the letters through most carefully.

Mary Alice Krout Becomes Bride Of Roy E. Eldridge

Cut flowers in pastel hues and lighted tapers decorated the altar of All Saints Catholic Church for the marriage on Saturday morning of Miss Mary Alice Krout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Krout, 553 North 9th street and Roy E. Eldridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eldridge, 1219 Wisconsin avenue. Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette was celebrant of the nuptial mass at 9. The student choir sang the music of the mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a coronation style bridal gown of satin and lace fashioned with a lace bodice and illusion neckline with a peter pan collar. The satin skirt formed a full train and opened in the front showing an inner plaited skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured by a beaded Juliet cap. She carried a prayer book topped by a bouquet of feathered carnations surrounded by lilies of the valley. At the conclusion of the mass, the bride placed her bouquet on the Blessed Virgin altar.

The maid of honor, Miss Catherine Nehmer and the bridesmaid, Miss Jeanette Krout, sister of the bride, wore identical gowns of light violet nylon net and lace fashioned with strapless tops and lace jackets. They wore white gloves and headbands of light violet colored leaves and carried orchid colored carnations.

Ronald Timler served the bridegroom as best man and ushering were Lennox Eldridge, brother of the bridegroom, and Arthur and Donald Pickard.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Krout chose a two piece dress of navy blue silk and white accessories and the groom's mother wore a beige fitted suit with navy blue and white accessories.

A wedding dinner was served at the Chicken Shack for fifty guests and a reception was held in the afternoon from 3 until 5 at the Yacht club.

The newlyweds are making their home at 819 East Pacific street, Appleton, Wis.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone High School, class of 1952 and of the Milwaukee Beauty school in Green Bay. She will be employed at Peggy Wonder's Beauty Salon in Appleton. The groom graduated from Gladstone High School in 1951 and is employed by the Chicago Northwestern Railroad Signal Department.

D.; Arthur and Donald Pickard, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Ole Norstrom, Appleton, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Anderson, Green Bay, Wis.; Miss Marian Pickard, Milwaukee; Miss Barbara Berg, Milwaukee.

At Cannes... Famous French Auto Show...

Another Grand Prix for Kaiser Beauty!

CANNES, FRANCE, April 25... Kaiser has once again won a Grand Prix for styling at the fashionable Concours d'Elegance of Cannes—the third Grand Prix in four years at Cannes for Kaiser... and the eighth in international competition!

No other car is so honored for beauty... or so blessed with safety! For Kaiser's low, airy look denotes the lowest center of gravity and greatest visibility of any standard American sedan. The rakish slant of its corner-posts eliminates "blind spots". The curving slope of its hood lets you see both front fenders, and the road ahead.

Its dramatic Vinyl-cushioned instrument panel is completely safety-padded, with the instruments recessed. And its beautifully curved windshield is designed to push outward on impact—another life-saving Kaiser exclusive!

The Kaiser looks right because it is engineered right—to give you the finest performance and the best value you can buy. Drive a Kaiser, and see!

Stephenson, Hermansville Win Regional Track Crowns

Casey Wins Mile In Fastest Time Of 1953 Season

Stephenson and Hermansville won track and field crowns in the Class B and D-E regional meet held on a fast track and in perfect weather here Saturday afternoon.

The Hermansville thinclads, paced by speed merchant Victor Dani, completely dominated Class D-E to cop the crown with 55 points. Dani posted firsts in the two dashes and the broad jump and anchored a relay team. The Redskins won eight firsts in all.

Balance and depth paid off for the Stephenson Eagles who copped five events in Class B and topped the field with 35.5 points.

Feature Event

One of the feature events of the day saw Escanaba's crack miler Dick Casey strengthen his bid for the Upper Peninsula championship. Casey toured the four-lap mile in 4:43.7, best time in his high school career and by far the fastest mile run this season. The tireless Eskymo athlete was all alone on the final lap. He was followed across the finish by another Escanaban, Carl Gray.

Stephenson's Bob Melchior scaled 11 feet 4 1/2 inches in the pole vault for one of the better showings in the meet. He failed three times to better the recognized Upper Peninsula record of 11 feet 7 inches set by John Prokos of Escanaba in 1951.

Eskymos Surprise

The host Eskymos showed surprising strength in the regional affair, finishing a close third place in team scoring with 29 points. The Escanaba 880 yard relay team of Karl Gray, Bill Peltier, Don Swanson and Don Dahlin captured the final event of the meet for Escanaba's second first place.

Dani showed his heels to the fastest men in his class. He fled the 100 yard dash in the fast time of 10.7, two tenths of a second faster than the winning time in Class B, won the 220 in 25 flat and broad jumped an inch under 18 feet.

Over 200 athletes from 12 schools competed with qualifiers earning the right to take part in the U. P. finals at Marquette next Saturday.

Wells Hurls Three-Hitter For Powers In Tri-County

Young Ray Wells spun a nifty three-hitter yesterday as Powers topped Daggett 5-1 in Tri County League action which also saw the Bark River Barks defeat Carney-Nadeau 9-4 and Wallace shut out Hermansville 11-0.

Wells bested Daggett's Bud Klein in a fine hurling duel. He whiffed 13 batters and gave up only one extra base knock, a double by Howard Green. Klein fanned nine and allowed five hits, only one safety coming after the third inning. Zig Shesky doubled for Powers.

Bark River climbed on Kosakowski of Carney for 13 hits, including a homer by Dave Kwarciany and doubles by John Martinac and Wally Flath. Both Martinac and Flath had three hits in five trips.

Ernie LaChapelle scattered five hits from the Bark River mound while fanning six and walking four. Bark River broke up a 2-2 tie with three runs in the top of the fifth and stretched the margin in the late innings.

At Hermansville, veteran Eddie Bush tossed six-hit ball to post the win for Wallace. Roger Hallgren pitched for Hermansville. Hermansville's manager announced that he was protesting the game to league commissioner Roy Bagley after a disputed play.

Braves Edge Trojans 4 To 3 For First Win

GLADSTONE—The Gladstone Braves scored one run in the bottom of the seventh inning here Saturday afternoon to edge the St. Joe Trojans 4-3 for their first baseball win of the season.

St. Joe opened scoring in the top of the third with a singleton and the Braves tied it up with a run in the last of the same frame. Gladstone took a 3-1 lead with two in the fourth. St. Joe came back to knot the score 3-3 with two in the fifth to set the stage for Gladstone's last-ditch victory.

The Braves won when Miller, third baseman, walked with one away. He stole second, went to third on a passed ball and came in on a wild pitch that hit the plate.

Maule Resigns As Cage Coach

HERMANVILLE—Donald M. Hill, social science instructor and assistant cage coach at Hermansville High School is the new head basketball coach of the Redskins.

He will assume his new duties at the start of the 1953-54 season. He replaces Bruno E. Maule, who resigned.

Hill's reserve team won the Little Seven Conference reserve trophy. He is a graduate of Norway High School and Northern Michigan College of Education where he starred in football and basketball. No salary was announced, but it was reported that Hill received a substantial increase.

Maule, athletic director, coach and commercial teacher, gave salary difficulties as his reason for leaving. He played for Hermansville High in his high school days.

He is a graduate of Ferris Institute with a B.S. degree in commerce and holds a Michigan secondary provisional certificate.

Tigers Meet Red Sox In Twin Bill Today

BOSTON—Two winning streaks go on the line in a doubleheader between the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Red Sox here today.

Rained out Sunday, the teams rescheduled the games for today, originally an open date for both.

The Tigers blew into town boasting two wins in a row over the seventh place Philadelphia Athletics. Detroit's cellarites hadn't been able to tie together before this season.

The Red Sox, on the other hand, have swept their last three and moved into third place in the American League Standings.

Manager Fred Hutchinson announced Detroit would go with its Sunday pitching nominees, Ned Garver (2-4) and Dave Madison (2-0). Manager Lou Boudreau said he'd stick by Sid Hudson (1-1) and Mel Parnell (4-0).

Hutchinson had more to worry about than today's doubleheader

Stock Car Races Draw Large Crowd

A crowd of 1,600 spectators responded to the first stock car racing program held yesterday afternoon at the state fairgrounds track under the sponsorship of the Escanaba Racing Association.

A field of 27 cars from throughout the Upper Peninsula ran through their paces on the new quarter-mile oval with Louie Mitchell of Ishpeming winning the feature race in a big Graham.

Heat winners were Leon Fraker of Iron Mountain, Connie Erickson of Kingsford and Bill Johnson of Ishpeming. Bill Halverson of Ishpeming won the semifinal race.

Mitchell was the top money winner for the day with $55 in prize cash. Fraker took home $51 and the trophy for the fastest time trial, 24.31 seconds.

Turn-overs and pile-ups kept the large crowd on edge throughout the program. Several cars were knocked out of action in smashups on the sharp turns.

A lot of folks, track fans included, do not realize that an official Upper Peninsula track and field record can only be set in the U. P. finals meet. For instance, if one of the athletes competing in the regional meet held here Saturday had bettered an established Upper Peninsula mark it would mean nothing as far as the record book is concerned. The Michigan High School Athletic Association recognizes only the fastest times and marks turned in during the finals.

Each year the records are brought up to date and published in the Michigan High School Athletic Association bulletin.

We agree with a lot of observers that it isn't fair to the athletes to judge only their performances in the finals for the record. Many times an athlete will turn in a better qualifying time in the regional than he will in the final. The regionals are run strictly the same as the finals, with competent officials, starters and timers. A lot of track fans we talked to Saturday were amazed when we mentioned that it would be impossible for a U. P. record to be set at the regional. But it's true.

Spectators Saturday afternoon saw one of the fastest miles run in the Upper Peninsula in many years when Dick Casey of Escanaba legged the distance in 4 minutes, 43 and 7/10 seconds. Track Coach Henry Wylie, who has handled Escanaba distance runners since 1929, rates Casey among the three best milers he's coached in high school.

For the record, the other two are Eddie Holderman and Milton Monson. Casey is getting valuable assistance from a team mate this season. Carl Gray has been converted to a miler and sets a fast pace for the tireless Casey in the first lap. Gray pleased the Eskymo coaches by placing second here Saturday.

WINS MILE RUN—Escanaba Eskymo Dick Casey is pictured above as he crosses the finish line in the regional track meet here Saturday afternoon. In posting his fourth straight mile win of the season, Casey turned in the best time of his high school career, a fast 4:43.7. He led the field by a wide margin and wasn't pressed in the final two laps. (Daily Press Photo)

Correspondent Riders Switched By Trainer

BALTIMORE—Trainer Wally Dunn's theory that a change in riders might help Correspondent do better against Dark Star than in the Kentucky Derby gets tested today in the Preakness Prep.

The two speedsters and four others are entered in their last competition before the $100,000 Preakness Saturday. The Prep also has drawn Eugene Constantine Jr.'s Royal Bay Gem, Bruce Campbell's Ram O' War, Darby Dan Stable's Lord Jeffery, and Alex Brusino's Country Gossip.

Hung On Tail

Correspondent, owned by Mrs. Gordon Guberson, ran on Dark Star's tail for the first mile of the Derby May 2. Then he dropped back to fifth while the pride of Cain Hoy Stable held on to win by a head over Native Dancer.

Earlier this week Dunn told Eddie Arcaro, Correspondent's Derby jockey, he should look elsewhere for a Preakness mount. Dunn said he was putting Bob Summers, who had ridden Correspondent in California before the colt came east to train for the Derby, back in the saddle.

Change Weights

Besides the jockey switch, the distance and weights will be different than in the Derby. The Prep is only a mile and sixteenth compared to the Derby's mile and quarter over which all carried 126 pounds.

The weights will be the same 126 again in the Preakness and the distance a mile and three-sixteenths.

Dark Star will have jockey Henry Moreno back astride him and carry 122 pounds in the Prep. Cor respondent will carry eight pounds less.

Royal Bay Gem will be the second highest weight with 118. Since finishing fourth in the Derby, Royal Bay Gem last Saturday won the Jersey Stakes at Garden State. Jimmy Combest will be his jockey.

The Harnies defeated White Birch 12-2 behind Johnny Pierone who went the route. White Birch used Leo and Franny Lancour on the hill.

Commission Makes Plans
It was not known whether Marciano would be represented at the theater today. His manager, Al Weill, is not in town.

Rocky himself was resting in Holland, Mich., where he trained for the brief bout. His plans are indefinite but may have been helped along somewhat by a recommendation of the National Boxing Association Executive Board yesterday.

At a meeting in Milwaukee, the board recommended that Roland La Starza and Ezzard Charles fight each other for the right to meet the champion.

From Four Angles
The films were taken from four angles and all four will be run off, both at normal tempo and in slow motion.

Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, and his lawyer, Angelo Malandra, maintain the films will prove their contention that Referee Frank Sikora gave the 39-year-old challenger a "fast count."

They plan to file a formal protest with the Illinois commission in the afternoon. However, unless the movies show something not apparent to the commission, other officials and hundreds of sportswriters at ringside, the Walcott argument is not expected to get very far.

Manistique, Fayette, Cooks Post Victories

Manistique, Cooks and Fayette posted opening game wins in the Bay de Noc baseball league yesterday afternoon.

Manistique edged Garden 4-1 in a tight pitchers' battle. The Cardinals' Don Carlson recorded a two-hitter while his mound opponent, Eddie Paul, allowed only three base knocks.

Speed-baller Paul whiffed 16 batters, walked two and hit three. Carlson fanned eight, walked one and hit one.

Paul provided the only Garden run with a single in the fifth which scored Clement from second base.

Manistique collected two hits in the first inning to account for two runs.

Cooks' hurler Orville Olson limited Tenary to five hits as his team posted a 13-4 victory. Olson fanned a dozen batters. Dick Rukilla and Vince Trotter shared mound duty for Tenary and gave up a total of 15 hits while fanning 12.

Bert Lund poked two doubles and a single to lead the Cooks at bat. Catcher Frank Ryquist contributed a double and two singles. Trotter doubled and singled for the losers.

Fayette batters pounded 17 hits off Waldon Johnson while posting a 20-3 victory over Rapid River. Bob Richards banged out two doubles and a single and pitcher Wayne VanRemortel stroked two singles and a double to set the Fayette pace at the plate.

VanRemortel fired four-hit ball and fanned nine while going the route for the winners.

Richards Manages Sox Not Magician Houdini

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

The name of the manager of the Chicago White Sox is Paul Richards, despite rumors going around the American League that it's Houdini.

With only one regular hitting over .300, and with a pitching staff composed largely of castoffs, the White Sox today were just half a game out of first place. They've won nine of their last 11 games, many of them with spine-chilling late-inning rallies.

But how long can it go on? Remember 1951 when the Pale Hose had the league agog for the first three months, only to fall off to almost nothing. Then last year, although they never did reach first place, they climbed to second in July, and eventually finished operations in third place.

Balanced In Midair
This year Richards said he thought the Sox could win the pennant—if.

So far none of his ifs have been holding up. It's as though the team is balancing itself in midair. Only catcher Sherman Lollar is over the .300 mark. He's hitting .348, and this is a pleasant surprise to Richards, who for a time thought of demoting him from the first-string catching job.

Billy Pierce, with a 5-1 mark, and reliever Harry Dorish, have been carrying the pitching staff to a large extent. Dorish has been in 13 games and owns a 3-0 record. But more important, the Sox have won nine of the games in which he has appeared.

Saul Rogovin staggered through to a 7-3 victory over the Washington Senators yesterday, and if the league-leading New York Yankees had lost, Richards and his operative would have been in first place. But the Yanks won too, beating the St. Louis Browns, 6-5.

Posts Second Win
Rogovin gave up 11 hits but was effective enough when it counted to keep down the Nats' run production to hang up his second victory against four defeats.

The Sox had a good day at the plate and pounded three Washington pitchers for 12 hits, including a home run by Sam Mele with one on.

The Yanks came mighty close to losing. Brownie rookie Don Larsen was just two strikes away from victory when he ran into trouble in the person of third-string catcher Ralph Houk of the Bombers.

The Browns were ahead 4-2, there were two out in the ninth and Larsen had one strike on Houk. But the ex-Marine singled, and so did Billy Martin. Irv Noren drove them both home with a triple. That sent the game into extra innings. The Browns scored once in their half of the 10th on a couple of singles and a sacrifice.

Yanks Come Back
But the Yanks came right back to win the ball game for reliever Bob Kuzava. Gene Woodling singled, Phil Rizzuto doubled, pinch-hitter Eddie Lopat was passed purposefully and Margin singled home Woodling and Rizzuto. The game ran three hours and 33 minutes and the two teams used a total of 41 players, a major league record.

Early Wynn and Mike Garcia hurled the third-place Cleveland Indians to a double-header triumph over the Philadelphia A's.

Cleveland won the first, 7-3, and Wynn allowed only six hits. Jim Hegan helped out with a three-run homer. The second was a little tougher, Mike Garcia and the A's Alex Kellner engaged in a tight duel for seven innings. But in the eighth, Kellner blew to the stratosphere and the Indians scored eight runs to wrap up a 9-1 victory.

The scheduled double-header between the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Red Sox was washed out. In the National League, the Cincinnati Redlegs must have used up all their hitting power in the first game of their double-header against the Brooklyn Dodgers. They won the opener, 13-5, on the wings of home runs by Jim Green-grass, Gus Bell, Ted Kluszewski and Willard Marshall.

But in the nightcap, Carl Erskine held them to one hit—a dribbly but one single in the third base line by Bell—as the Dodgers registered a 10-0 shutout.

The Brooks moved into third place by virtue of their victory and the New York Giants' 9-6 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. Tookie Gilbert, who had produced but one single in his last 15 times at bat, was the big man in the Giant attack with four hits, including a three-run homer.

The Chicago Cubs swept a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2, and 7-3.

Inland Given Safety Award

The Inland Lime and Stone Company here has been awarded a Certificate of Honor by the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association for an exceptional safety record, it is announced by the Bureau of Mines, Department of the Interior.

The award covers the period from Dec. 6, 1950, to May 22, 1952, during which a total of 1,152,281 accident-free man hours were worked at the crushing plant, docks and quarry at Inland's operations east of Manistique.

The Holmes Association was founded in 1916 to commemorate and further the work of the late Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, first director of the Bureau of Mines.

During the past year the Inland firm also was awarded the Sentinels of Safety trophy in Bureau of Mines safety competition and the national safety award from the National Crushed Stone Association. Both of these awards covered the calendar year of 1951, but the trophies were not presented until 1952.

Head Of Easter Seal Campaign Extends Thanks

An expression of gratitude in behalf of crippled children of Schoolcraft county was given today for local participation in the 20th annual Easter Seal campaign by Marjorie MacKenzie, chairman.

"Although we didn't reach our goal of $1,000 for this county, we did better than any other year with a total of $807.35," she said. "Public spirited citizens of Manistique have demonstrated that they want to help. They have done their part. Now it is up to us to establish, develop and maintain the many services our crippled children and adults so desperately need. You can be assured that we will do the very best that is in our power."

A total of 91.7 per cent of the funds raised will remain in Michigan for local services. The balance will be used to help finance a nationwide program of research, education, and direct services.

The Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., is just one of the National Society's more than 2,000 Easter Seal affiliates that participated simultaneously in the campaign.

475 Receive Social Security Payments Here In December

A total of $17,187 in social security payments went to 475 persons in Schoolcraft county in December, 1952, it is announced by Carl L. Johnson, manager of the Escanaba social security office.

This is an increase of 21 per cent over payments at the end of 1951.

Men and women 65 or over who had worked long enough to qualify for old-age insurance benefits made up the largest group of beneficiaries and received larger amounts than dependents or survivors, Johnson said. Numbering 248, they received $11,357 for the month, an average of $46. Most of them were from 65 to 74 and received payments after meeting the test of retirement given in the law. Those 75 or over could receive payments even though they were still working.

In the smaller groups, 30 aged widows and dependent widowers received $1,195. 64 wives and dependent husbands received $1,467 and one aged dependent parent received $45.

Not all Schoolcraft County persons entitled to payments were 65 or older. Monthly checks went to 132 mothers and children, some of them dependents of retired men but most of them survivors of those who had died. The payments to 26 mothers amounted to $702 in December, and 106 children received $2,421.

Changes made by the 1950 and 1952 amendments to the social security act accounted for a considerable part of the increases, Johnson pointed out.

In 1950 the law was changed to include millions of people not covered before and to make it easier for them to qualify for payments. Among those newly covered were self-employed people and regularly employed household and farm workers.

The 1952 changes, effective last September, raised the amounts of virtually all benefits, gave social security credits for military service after the end of World War II, and provided that a person can be considered "retired" even though he is earning as much as $75 a month.

Illinois Takes Big Ten Baseball Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois played and won one of three scheduled games over the weekend and the lone victory earned the Illini sole possession of first place in Big Ten baseball standings.

Iowa, last week's leader, faltered Friday with a 5-2 bow to Wisconsin but came back strong Saturday, winning a doubleheader from Northwestern 7-3 and 6-0.

Wolves Lose, Boast Stars

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan took consolation today in some brilliant individual performances despite Saturday's 79-23 to 52-13 dual track meet loss to powerful Illinois.

There was little consolation in the team effort which fell before the deep Illinois squad, which won nine of the 14 events and run 1-2 in five of them.

But there was satisfaction in the all-time Michigan high jump record of 6 feet, 8 1/4 inches set by lanky Milt Mead, the bounding junior from Bay City.

Other fine Michigan performances were turned in by distance star John Ross and weight man Roland Nelson. Ross scored a decided one-mile victory over Illinois clocking and then came back later to score a surprise victory over Gene Maynard and Stacy Siders in the 880-yard run in 1:53.7.

Nilsson beat the 1939 mark of Bill Watson by 8 1/4 inches with a 54 foot, 10-inch shot put and won the discus event with a 158 foot, 5 1/2 inch throw that added 5 1/2 inches to Watson's 1939 dual meet record.

Illinois broke no records.

Middlecoff Wins Golf's Round Robin Tournament

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—For the last four or five years those who follow golf's gold dust trail have been calling Dr. Cary Middlecoff the sport's "heir apparent." If this be so, now may be the time for Doc to keep his date with destiny.

The lean Memphis dentist has reached the peak of his game with the U. S. Open championship less than a month away. He won the fast Meadow Brook Round Robin title yesterday after five rounds of sparkling golf.

He registered 70-64-66-67-66 for 333, 17 under par. Arithmetically, he finished seven points ahead of Jimmy Demaret.

Shooting Bandit Doomed To Die

NEW YORK (AP)—Bank robber Gerhard A. Puff, who killed an FBI agent while trying to shoot his way to freedom when he was surrounded at a New York hotel, has been sentenced to death.

A Federal court jury yesterday found him guilty of murder in the first degree, which carries a mandatory death penalty. Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan set the week of June 1 for the electrocution.

Asked if he had anything to say, the cool-headed Puff, once one of the most wanted bank robbers in the country, slowly crushed out a cigarette. Then he thanked his counsel and the judge, and turned to the jury.

"I feel no ill will and no animosity to you," he said. "I am not guilty of your verdict. I am guilty of defending my own life."

His attorney said an appeal will be filed, automatically staying the execution.

FBI Agent Joseph J. Brock died in the gun duel to capture Puff last July 26.

Foundation Runs Radio Crusade

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Heritage Foundation has taken over the job of running the "crusade for freedom," which raises money to finance the privately-backed "Radio Free Europe."

The move yesterday brought an endorsement from President Eisenhower, a former trustee of the non-profit foundation created six years ago to "strengthen the sources of American freedom."

"I believe," Eisenhower said in a letter, "the work is of great importance and it seems to me that the American Heritage Foundation is uniquely qualified to carry it out."

The overseas radio broadcasts are beamed from a chain of stations to Communist and other countries.

The Foundation yesterday elected Henry Ford II as chairman of the Board of Trustees, succeeding Winthrop W. Aldrich, now ambassador to Great Britain. Thomas D'Arcy Brophy continues as president.

Reds Hate France More Than Us Now

HONG KONG (AP)—Dispatches from the southern Communist metropolis of Canton say that France has replaced the United States as the number one propaganda target of Reds in that area.

The independent newspaper Wah Kiu Yat po said anti-French slogans have replaced anti-American ones at public meetings and on billboards. Anti-British blasts which formerly were much in evidence have completely disappeared, the paper added.

Presumably the switch in propaganda targets in Canton is due to the nearness of Indochina.

Science Can't Explain Epidemic Of Twisters

BY ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
CHICAGO (AP)—Scientists don't know precisely why, but the U. S. is taking a heavy belting from tornadoes this year.

The season for twisters, generally running from April through July, got off to a roaring start when tornadoes struck somewhere on 14 days during April. Another rash, including the disastrous twister that crushed the Waco, Tex., business district, followed in early May.

Since 1916, April has had an average of 8½ tornado days. The April record of 18 tornado days was set in 1929.

Smallest But Worst
Tornadoes are the smallest—but sometimes the most vicious and death-dealing of all storms.

Experts know the weather conditions favorable for breeding these ominous black funnels, but they don't know the exact cause. The U. S. Weather Bureau and Air Force are conducting studies to help them in forecasting their occurrence.

Generally, an explosive situation occurs when a layer of cool, dry air spreads over a thick ground layer of warm, moist air. This warm air is lighter and creates a turbulence when it attempts to rise suddenly.

General Store Keeps Atmosphere Of Past

SPRINGFIELD, Me. (AP)—Time seems to have stood still in Harry B. Burr's old general store. Here the 80-year-old proprietor still pumps "extra fancy Barbados" molasses from a wooden barrel into a wooden measuring cup for his customers. Here you may buy kerosene mantle lamps.

Here you may buy plug tobacco, hand-chopped, or slabs hacked from a great cheese, or horse collars and sweat pads, groceries and horse medicine cartridges and hunting boots, vinegar—also from a barrel.

Harry's barber shop is in the rear. "I was going to fix this place up, once," Harry will explain, but the city men who come shopping for their hunting trips said, "Don't do it!" So Harry didn't.

INFANT ALARM
MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Don't groan, Pappy, when that cry-baby wakes you up in the middle of the night—he may save your life.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Melon were asleep in the their home here when the kitchen refrigerator caught fire. But their bawling baby woke them before the fire spread.

Pantie Raiders Taken To Court

EAST LANSING (AP)—Three of seven students suspended as ring leaders in the "panty raid" and riot at Michigan State College early last week were hauled into court Friday on charges of resisting an officer.

Those charged by college police were Eldon C. Barclay Jr., 18, of Port Huron; Donald A. Rollings, 19, of Three Rivers; and Randolph L. Rushton, 19, of Escanaba.

All three demanded examination in East Lansing justice court and a May 22 hearing date was set. Police said Barclay tumbled down a stairs in one of the dormitories while tussling with an officer. The student was treated at the college hospital for bruises.

Police said Barclay had been heaving bricks from the roof of one of the dormitories during the riot.

The other two were picked up during melees with the police at various stages of the riot.

Also suspended were William F. Bailey of Battle Creek, Richard C. Sierke of Temperance and Thomas M. Snyder of Rochester, Mich.

Four other students were placed on social probation, 19 were referred to the student judiciary for punishment and six other arrested were absolved of any blame when they proved they were merely spectators.
